House,

The minstrel-loving public of Willimmutic and adjoining towns was entertained by a production of genuine merit Tuesday evening at Loomer Opera house, when the Grex club minstrels was staged with many novel features that served to vary the usual programme of minstrel performances.

Beautiful scenes were especially prepared by P. D. Donahue and the pretty Japanese effect was particularly striking. The curtain arose on a pretty setting with nile green and white predominating in the scheme. Beautiful infective all effects were cleverly arranged by Elmer M. Young.

An audience that crowded the house showed appreciation of the young setors' efforts and was most generous in applause. The chorus of nearly sixty voices was loud and several the Period applause. The chorus of nearly sixty voices was loud yet sweet. The Ruba and Filtration dances were finely executed and made decided hits.

Mrs. Lena Fuller Robinson's soprano selo was so effective as to win her a deserved encore. Mr. Carisen, assisted by Mr. Rivelow and Clarence and ed by Mr. Bigelow and Clarence and Dwight Jordan in vaudeville novelties came in for spontaneous recognition from the delighted audience. The Birthday Party was thoroughly appreciated and the appearance of a number of young ladies taking various parts during the presentation was a feature not always seen in a minstrel production and materially added to an excellent evening's entertainment, the sticcass of which was in great meas-ure due to the skilful efforts of Sam Johnson, who was in charge of the entire affair.

The Grey club, which is affiliated with the First Congregational church, and the assisting young ladies from the Sodolitas seciety, associated with the same church, were cordially congratulated on the manner in which everything pertaining to the club's initial endeavor in the minstrel line was see well carried out.

A sparkling minstrel show was the offering at the Bradley theater Tuesday evening. The cast of sixty was made up entirely of local people. Music and song, merry jests, pretty dances and laughable local hits were features of the evening of fun. The overture opened with a mediay of patriotic and popular melodies, in which the entire company participated. Thomas Coffey was interlocutor, and the circle was made up of the following local entertainers: Comedians, Graydon Sharpe, Charles Belair, William Fuller, Michael Duffy, Robert Hammond, Jeremiah Curran. "The Dollars of the Daddies" You know how hard they were earned, how carefully they were husbanded, how judiciously they were invested. The dellars grew into hundreds, the hundreds into houses, into farms, into wise and profitable business investments. These "dollars of the daddies" are the basis of our present prosperity. They were not lured into epeculation, or into risky investments. The "daddies"
